RE: Request for Comments Concerning Proposed Modification of Action Pursuant to the Section 301 Investigation of China's Targeting of the Maritime, Logistics, and Shipbuilding Sectors for Dominance (USTR-2025-0013)

The undersigned organizations representing a wide breadth of our nation's economy, including importers, exporters, farmers and agribusinesses, retailers, manufacturers, energy providers, wholesalers, transportation and logistics providers, and other sectors, urge the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative (USTR) to again refrain from imposing its proposed actions in response to the Section 301 investigation of China's targeting the maritime, logistics and shipbuilding sectors for dominance.

As we previously submitted¹ to USTR during the initial comment period, the groups support scrutiny of China's efforts to dominate the maritime industry. However, we still strongly believe that USTR's final actions will not deter China's broader maritime ambitions and will instead directly hurt American businesses and consumers. While we appreciate that USTR made significant changes to the final actions, the port fee remains in place. These fees will be passed along directly to the cargo owners, U.S. importers and exporters to pay.

BIMCO, the Baltic and International Maritime Council, the world's largest international shipping association, recently announced² that it has initiated the development of a standard industry clause with the aim to address contractual uncertainties arising from USTR's actions to impose fees on Chinese-related ships calling U.S. ports. As we previously stated, this will lead to higher prices for U.S. consumers and undermine the competitiveness of many U.S. businesses.

We continue to expect ocean carriers to rearrange and potentially reduce services to U.S. ports, especially smaller ports, as a result of the port fee. Such a reduction in service will increase congestion across the country's logistics network and spur a new normal of higher costs and delays affecting both imports and exports. This will also negatively impact local economies, businesses and workers who rely on these ports.

We again call upon USTR and the administration to evaluate the true needs to support the revitalization of the domestic shipbuilding industry. There continues to need to be a dedicated strategy with sustained investments, leadership and a long-term commitment from both the public and private sectors to revitalize the domestic industry, without the need of a port fee on Chinese-built vessels that were purchased years ago.

Thank you for the opportunity to comment.
